

Continuity in COVID times...

It's been months, COVID 19- the pandemic engulfed the whole world, affecting the life and day to day activities. It's getting difficult to bring back the routine we used to for people and businesses too. Businesses trying their best to continue the long halted operations. Lactalis India ensured that its customers won't suffer because of unavailability of its products and kept running the operations as usual taking all precautions, safety measures of its employees and all the stakeholders in this cycle. Doing this, we haven't forgot our duties towards society and wherever possible we are doing our bit to be of help to the real heroes fighting against COVID 19 and also to the socially deprived to get their daily life to continue in these tough times. We are confident that soon we shall overcome.
